DOCTOR CHISHOLM'S

Anti-Bilious Pills,

Of a quality superior to any thing of the kind ever offered as a GENERAL MEDICINE, in this Country.

NOW prepared from a recipe of the celebrated Dr. Chisholm, who, from a long residence in the West-India Islands, has been enabled to favor the world with the most complete history, and most approved methods of curing all the BILIOUS DISEASES of those warm climates.

This extraordinary Medicine, which now for the first time is finding its way into general practice, has properties in the highest degree superior to the mercurial nostrums so requently recommended by the name of Anti-Bilious Pills. The extraordinary powers of this medicine as a solvent and evacuent of Bile, is without example; never producing debility or injuring the health, in the smallest degree, of the most delicate child or weakly female:

The BILIOUS HEAD-ACHE, so much complained of in this country, and in the neighbourhood of rivers, is often removed by a single dose, which, to a strong man, is only five pills, and to a weakly woman, three. The same dose will generally remove the most excruciating pains of the cholic, like a charm, by abusing the bile to pass downwards in the course of an hour or two.

Two or three Pills taken an hour before dinner, and repeated every third day, will effectually remove those diseases arising from flatulency and indigestion, and by persevering in the use of them for a considerable time, the appetite will be improved, and strength and vigor will return.

Two Pills taken at bed time, with a cup of penny-royal tea, and repeated every second night, will effectually remove Rheumatic pains wherever seated.

A single Pill, taken every fourth hour with a cup of flaxseed tea, will cure Pleurisy, promote expectoration, and relieve coughs and colds.

In CONSUMPTIVE CASES and DISEASES OF THE LIVER, no medicine ever yet discovered, has been known to perform such cures. Two Pills taken every third morning, will be found sufficient, unless costiveness prevails; in which case the dose may be increased according to the strength or constituton.

The Dysentery, Croup, and Summer Complaint on children, are soon relieved by a few doses. A single Pill to a child of 6 years old, and the dose increased according to their strength and age.

In Asthmatic or Phthisical cases, where the laborious breathing and great oppression, with faintings, are fast sinking the patient to the brink of the grave, a few Pills, taking one every hour, with fennel or pepper-mint tea, will often enable the patient to walk about in a few hours.

The above valuable Medicine is Sold ONLY in Pittsburgh, by
J. P. & J. W. SKELTON,
at their Wholesale and Retail Apothecary and Drug Store.

Pay your Ferriage!

ALL persons who will stand indebted to the subscriber for FERRIAGES up to the first of April next, are requested to make payment against the second week in that month, and to make new arrangements for the ensuing year. It is hoped particular attention will be paid to this request, as after that time the due bills remaining unpaid, will be transferred to JOHN GRAHAM, to settle up the business for the last year of the two ferries.

GEORGE POE, Jun.
Pittsburgh, March 23, 1816. tf

FROM THE BOSTON DAILY ADVERTISER.

We have seen some French papers two or three days later than the last Paris accounts received by way of England, they do not contain any news of any importance. The principal article of interest, is an account of the fate of the unfortunate Le Perouse, recently obtained from Dagelet, the astronomer, who accompanied the expedition, and who was in the course of the last year taken from a rock at the eastward of the Philipine islands.

La Perouse was born in France, in 1741. He distinguished himself by many years' services in the India sea in early part of his life. During the American war, he served under d'Estaing, and distinguished himself at the taking of Grenada. After the peace of 1783, he was selected by Louis XVI. to command the Astrolabe and the Broussole, on a voyage of discovery. He began his voyage by following the tract of captain Cook, visited the north-west coast, advanced to Bebring streights, thence down the eastern coast of Asia, along Japan, and in Feb. 1788, visited Botany bay. A narrative of his voyage thus far has been published. From the time of leaving Botany bay, nothing has been heard of him 'till the present discovery. In 1791, the French national assembly sent two ships in search of him, but after exploring the seas which he was supposed to have visited, they returned without the least intelligence of his fate.

It appears that one of Perouse's two vessels, after leaving Botany bay in 1788, struck upon a chain of rocks, and was lost, crew saved by Perouse's vessel: they afterwards discovered an island in the south-east of New Zealand, and anchored in the bay—when the vessel accidentally caught fire and was consumed—that the natives during the first twenty-one years were amicably disposed—but Perouse tired of waiting for relief, and anxious to return home, ordered trees to be felled for timber to build a vessel—the natives considered this an act of hostility—war commenced, and finally Perouse and all who were with him, were massacred, except Dagelet and 17 others, who escaped after great perils, in birch canoes, to the place where he was found, and where he had resided two years; those who escaped with him, had all died—and Dagelet himself died a few days after he was taken from off the rock. His journal of events was preserved, and deposited at Macoa, whence the account is received.

An awkward affair is said to have occurred a few days back, on the Boulevards at Paris, where marshal Victor was walking, when lieut. Troughton, of the English guards, passing him quickly, unintentiionally struck the marshal on the elbow. Lieut. T. immediately apologized, but the marshal abused him grossly, and increased his abuse in proportion to lieut. T's. excuses, when the latter said, "I know not who you are, but I am a British officer, and will not brook such gross and indecent language, without resenting it. I therefore advise you to desist. The marshal went on as before, and the lieutenant knocked him down by a blow on the chest. The lieutenant was taken to the prefecture. The marshal wrote to the duke of Wellington, a court of inquiry was held, and the lieut. was slightly reprimanded, and told to be more circumspect in his conduct.

NEGRO INSURRECTION.

The Fredericksburg Herald, contains the trial of George Boxley, of Spotsylvania, on a charge of exciting an insurrection among certain negro slaves.—Boxley, it appears, kept a small store and had considerable dealing with the negroes, and made use of his exertions to convince them of the blessings of emancipation; and having secured their confidence, pointed out the plan to free themselves, telling them he had been inspired, and received his communications from heaven, from a little white bird, which perched upon his shoulders. The evidence against Boxley, is derived from his deluded followers, which not being admitted against white men, that which was given against Boxley, related principally to the occurrences of Sunday, and to his declarations at various times. The evidence against the blacks is full and clear. Four of them have been sentenced to be hung!

This court not being competent to the trial of a white man for a capital offence, Boxley was recommitted for a further trial at the Superior Court in May next, when a jury of his fellow-citizens will pass sentence upon him.

Boxley offered no evidence, except as to general character, which has hitherto been that of a harmless citizen, but a man of weak mind and excessive vanity. He has a wife and eight children. His connections are reputable. He possessed a decent property, which with common exertions, would have made his life comfortable. He was an officer in the militia, and in that capacity served a tour at Norfolk during the late war.—So circumstanced, it is difficult for a plain understanding to conceive a motive sufficiently powerful to induce an act of such desperate folly and depravity as the one he has attempted.

☞ Since writing the above, we have learned that a number of negroes have been tried in Louisa, charged with being concerned in the conspiracy, 6 of whom have been convicted! Several yet remain to be tried in Spotsylvania.

FOREIGN ARTICLES.

The Niger sailed from Portsmouth on the 28th of January, with the British Minister, for the United States of America.

Frenchmen proscribed in the order of July 24, and who had reached the Netherlands, have been ordered to quit that kingdom. A few years since Louis XVIII, was in the same manner driven from kingdom to kingdom, at the instance of the revolutionary governments, till he found an asylum in England.

In France, Marshal Serurier has been deprived of his pension and place.

One London paper says, Cambaceres will carry with him from France two millions of dollars.

It is said Gen. Count Vandamme has decided on coming to the United States.

The King of France has given to the city of Antwerp, the magnificent basins built at that place by the late French Government. They cost 13 or 14 millions of francs.

John Swayne, alias Sweney, accused as a British subject of entering the American service on board the frigate Essex in the late war, has been tried and convicted in England, and sentenced to death; but recommended to mercy.

BONAPARTE.

A gentleman who has lately returned from St. Helena, and who was frequently with Bonaparte, describes him as in the highest spirits, even to a degree of jollity. He says, that he wants dignity, but fairly rolls and swaggers about the island as if he had made it his own for life. When the gentleman was coming away, and mentioned his destination to another part of the world, the ex-Emperor exclaimed, "What sir, and leave such a fine island as this?" He talked about India, and shewed the most complete and detailed knowledge of its affairs. He knew all the petty princes, their situations, opposite interests, the names of the principal bankers, merchants, &c. in our settlements. He was as much au fait on the subject as if he had passed his life there. Being asked his opinion of Lord Wellington, he said, "He is a good general, but slow. I should put three hundred thousand men in motion while he was thinking of it." He rides at a prodigious rate, and sets off full gallop the instant he is mounted, leaving the cavalcade who attend him a good distance behind.

SATURDAY, MARCH 30, 1816.

The Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette is removed to Front Street, opposite the Post-Office.

An Apprentice to the Printing Business will be taken, if application is immediately made. Apply at the Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

We have seen the law incorporating the City of Pittsburgh. It is too long to publish in the Gazette at present.

The boundaries of the City are similar to those of the Borough, except extending the lines to the middle of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers—The first election for members of the Select and Common Councils is to be on the first Tuesday of July next, and the second election on the first Tuesday of January following, and yearly thereafter—Citizens of the United States and of this State, who have resided within the limits of the City one year immediately preceding the election, and paid a Borough or City Tax, are entitled to vote—The Select Council is to consist of nine members, qualified to serve as State Senators: immediately after the election they are to divide themselves by lot into three classes, the seats of one class to be vacated each year—Fifteen persons, qualified to serve in the House of Representatives of this State, are to be elected members of the Common Council—The first election to be held and conducted by the Burgess and Town Council, and future elections by the Recorder and Aldermen—The Select and Common Councils have full power to make laws, ordinances, &c. (not repugnant to the laws and constitution of the United State, or this State) for the regulation and government of the City—All laws, ordinances, &c. to be published within fifteen days after they are enacted, in one or more of the newspapers of the City, and within thirty days recorded in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny county, otherwise they are null and void—the doors of the hall of the Select and Common Councils shall be open for the admission of peaceable and orderly persons—The Governor to appoint one Recorder and twelve Aldermen, who shall hold their offices during good behaviour, the Justices of the Peace, within the limits of the City shall be Aldermen—The Select and Common Councils shall meet together on the second Tuesday of July next, and on the second Tuesday of January following, and yearly afterwards, and elect viva voce, one of the Aldermen as Mayor of the City—No Alderman, or any person holding an office of trust or profit under the laws of this Commonwealth, or the ordinances of the Corporation, the emoluments whereof is paid out of the treasury of the city, shall be competent to serve as a member of the Select and Common Councils—Brokers may, from time to time, be licensed by the Councils, &c. &c.

GRAND CAUCUS.

The Democratic members of Congress, met in caucus, on the 16th inst. in the chamber of the house of representatives, and proceeded to nominate suitable persons,* for whom the good democrats must vote, for the offices of president and vice-president.

One hundred and nineteen members attended. On counting the votes, it appeared, that James Monroe had sixty-five, and William H. Crawford, fifty-four votes, for the office of president.

Daniel D. Tompkins, had 85 votes, and his Tannic Majesty, Simon of Pennsylvania, 30 votes for the office of vice-president.

* To what a pitiable pass has democracy come!——James Monroe, the profound statesman and intrepid soldier, the only man of the party, who unites all the requisites for the office!—O tempora!

As no genuine democrat will question the authority of William Cobbett, we copy his opinion of citizen Monroe, taken verbatim from his will, dated April 15, 1797.

"Item.—To citizen Monroe, I will and bequeath my chamber looking-glass. It is a plain, but exceeding true mirror; in it he will see the exact likeness of A TRAITOR, who has bartered the honor and interest of his country, to a savage and perfidious enemy!"

Daniel D. Tompkins, the great financier, of 440,000 dollars memory, vice-president of the U. States!—O mores!

And overcome us like a summer's cloud,
Without our special wonder!"

WATERLOO.

...E OFFICER, HIS WIFE, AND THE BAGGAGE ASS.

The following interesting Anecdote is ...en from "A Visit to Flanders," and ...give some idea of the kind of scenes ...t were passing during the memorable ...le of Waterloo:

"I had the good fortune," says the ...elligent writer, "to travel from Brussels to Paris with a young Irish officer ...his wife, an Antwerp lady of only ...teen, of great beauty, and matchless ...ocence and naivette. The husband ...s in the battle of Quatre Bras as well ...of Waterloo, and to him I owe much ...my minutest and most interesting in...mation.

"He was living in the cantonments at ...uelles, his wife with him. The unexpected advance of the French called him at a moment's notice to Quatre Bras; ...he left with his wife, his servant, ...e horse, and the family baggage, which ...s packed upon a large ass. Retreat ...the time was not anticipated, but be...suddenly ordered on the Saturday ...ning, he contrived to get a message ...his wife, to make the best of her way, ...ended by the servant and baggage, to ...ssels. The servant, a foreigner, had ...iled himself of the opportunity to take ...ave of both master and mistress, and ...ade off with the horse, leaving the help-...s young lady alone with the baggage. With a firmness becoming the wife ...a British officer, she boldly commen...ed on foot her retreat of twenty-five ...iles, leading the ass by the bridle, and ...refully preserving the baggage; no ...iolence was dared by any one to so in...cent a pilgrim, but no one would ven...ure to assist her. She was soon in the ...idst of the columns of the retreating ...ritish army, and much retarded and ...ndangered by the artillery. The fa...igue was great; it rained in water ...pouts, and the thunder and lightning ...readful in the extreme. She continued ...n advance, and got upon the great road ...rom Charleroi to Brussels, at Waterloo, ...hen the army on Saturday evening were ...king up the line for the awful conflict. ...n so extensive a field, and among 80000 ...men, it was in vain to seek her husband; ...he knew that the sight of her, there, would only embarrass and distress him; ...he kept slowly advancing to Brussels ...ll the Saturday night—the road choked ...with all sorts of conveyances, waggons ...nd horses: multitudes of native fugi...tives on the road and flying into the great ...wood, and many of the wounded walk...ing their painful way, dropping every ...step, and breathing their last; every few ...steps lay a corpse or a limb; particular...ly, she said, severed hands. Many per...sons were actually killed by others, if ...by chance they stood in the way of their ...endeavors to save themselves. And to ...these horrors, the rain continued una...bated, and the thunder and lightning ...still raged as if the heavens were torn to ...pieces. Full twelve miles further, in ...the night, this young woman marched ...up to her knees in mud, her boots worn ...entirely off, so that she was barefooted; ...but still unhurt, she led her ass; and al...though thousands lost their baggage, and ...many their lives, she calmly entered Brussels on the morning in safety, self, ...ass, bag and baggage, without the loss ...of an article. In a few hours after her ...arrival commenced the cannon's roar of ...the tremendous Sunday, exposed to ...which for ten hours, she knew her hus...band to be; and after a day and night ...in agony, she was rewarded by finding ...herself in her husband's arms, he un...hurt, and she nothing the worse, on the Monday. The officer told me the tale ...himself, with tears in his eyes. With ...a slight Irish accent, he called her 'his ...dare little woman,' and said she became ...more valuable to him every day. I ne...ver saw a more elegant, gentlemanlike ...young man; and assuredly, his pretty Belgian seemed almost to adore him.—...It gave additional value to the anecdote, ...that I had it from the actors in the scene ...described. When I remarked that it ...was quite in the spirit of ELIZABETH of SIBERIA, the lady exclaimed, "Ah ma mere m'a dit la meme chose!" My mo...ther made the same remark.

THE SCHEDIASM—No. 6.

——Multa petentibus,
Desunt multa.——
HOR. ODE 16. LIB. III.

The more they have, the more they want.

Amusing myself with Horace, I came ...to the passage just quoted; it struck me ...as being as strictly applicable to the peo...ple of this country, as to the degenerate Romans. Human nature continues the ...same in every age. An extravagant fondness for accumulating immense ...wealth prevails with the same degree of ...influence over Americans, as it did over ...the inhabitants of the city of Rome. To ...acquire a superabundance of riches seems ...to be the prime object of every man's at...tention; every other consideration is ...compelled to give precedence to this. Not content with possessing even an "elegant sufficiency," some men con...tinue to torment their minds with cares, exhausting their strength and wasting their lives in unremitted pursuit after this glittering, unsatisfying object. The minds of some men are totally engrossed by this object, they are so ardent and zealous in their endeavors after it; that one would suppose their soul's happiness depended on the degree of wealth they possessed, But how vain and futile are all hopes of happiness from this source; how long will mankind continue to be deceived by the meretricious effulgence of wealth? will not the fatal experience of thousands who built their hopes on this sandy foundation, teach others to beware how they confide on such ground. The mind that is content with a sufficiency, enjoys a degree of happiness which the tortured mind of the avaricious never feel: in the words of our poet,

"Bene est cui Deus obtulit
Parca quod satis est manu."

To be happy one must be content, but the avaricious man is never satisfied, is always unhappy; being so immoderately attached to his worldly possessions, that between the fear of losing a portion, or not gaining an increase, he is kept in a continued state of anxiety and alarm.

Wealth indeed gives a man the power but generally takes away the will of doing good by alleviating the miseries and relieving the distresses of his fellow men; but how few do we find disposed to make this benevolent use of their wealth. In the character of Pliny the younger, we have a noble example presented us; some may have surpassed him in the extent of their possessions, but none ever excelled him in generosity, a generosity that proceeded from the genuine sympathy of his heart. Instead of hoarding his wealth as if the summum bonum consisted in counting or admiring the glittering heaps, he found real felicity in contributing a portion to the relief of his suffering fellow citizens; and thousands experienced from his hands the consoling comforts of unostentatious munificence.

"The love of gold, the meanest of amours," degrades and contracts the mind, it paralyzes all the benevolent affections of the soul and renders man a fit companion for self only. I am sorry to find that avarice forms a prominent feature in the character of Pennsylvania, and our legislature exhibited strong symptoms on a late occasien of the influence of this disposition even in that body, when in violation of prior grants, they would sacrifice the ornament, convenience and health of the fairest city in the U. States, for a few thousand dollars.

Fortunately for that class of our readers who are averse to all kinds of moralizing, I was here interrupted in my reflections by the following letter which was this moment received from a friend.

Dear Sir,

"Vigilant curiosity is on the alert, to draw you from your concealment; if discovered, you will be confounded by the frowns of offended female pride. Some letters you admitted into the Schediasm, have created an excitement which will not be easily allayed. The ladies are determined to find you out, and discard you from their society. Be on your guard; you know the ladies are endowed with a peculiar ingenuity in extracting secrets, although they have not the happy faculty of retaining them; it is believed they know every one that has been whispered since the days of Noah, excepting the masonic method of raising old Nic. Some make use of this circumstance as an argument to prove that this power does not exist; others say, that the women are afraid to discover this secret, lest their curiosity should tempt them to call the old fellow up in order to have a peep at him. Every endeavor will be made to detect you; the desire of revenge, connected with curiosity, will urge to every exertion—woe betide you in case you are discovered; I am afraid all the apologies and compliment, your invention can suggest, will avail you nothing. Beware of Miss Conception, you have excited her displeasure; and she will construe your expressions in such a manner, as will reflect personally on some of your acquaintances.—The severest censures are cast on the writers of Schediasm. Suspicion falls heavily on one of our friends; and Miss Scandal declares from her knowledge of certain circumstances that have lately occurred; but which she dares not mention, there are strong grounds for such suspicion; this has placed our friend in a very unpleasant situation, from which you ought to relieve him.

Yours, &c.

We have adopted a sentiment of the celebrated Zimmerman, by which we will be guided in our labors, that is, "to "deliver freely in writing, that which "in the general intercourses of society, "it is impossible to say, with safety or "politeness." By this method we can point out the faults of our fellow-citizens, and it will not be taken amiss;—because, aimed at none in particular, we can venture to lay aside the garb of flattery, and address the female part of community, in the language of truth, which must find a way to their hearts, in defiance of wooden breast-works.—But we beg of them to form no unjust suspicions; nor be incensed at us, if we should occasionally disclose disagreeable truths, or point our pen with sharp satire.

To Iron Manufacturers.

A PERSON well acquainted with the art of making Iron, and all kinds of Steel, and who possesses a knowledge of a great improvement in this art, by which from 10 to 20 per cent may be saved in the expence of making, wishes to engage in the business, with some person of capital. Any such person, having at least $ 20,000 of capital to employ in this way, may hear of a great opportunity, and learn further particulars by applying to JOHN JOHNSTON, Esq. Postmaster, at Pittsburgh, who will promptly communicate with the advertiser. Persons possessing mines of Iron Ore, with wood or coal for fuel, and Iron Works already erected, may find this offer of the advertiser worthy of an early attention. A want of the necessary capital is his only motive in seeking an associate. He is confident that his improvement is of great national importance, and is determined that the Iron and Steel made on his plan, shall all be stamped with the name of the inventor. March 1816.

March 26, 1816.

Young North Star,

WILL stand to cover Mares the ensuing Season, at the following places: the first week in April, at the Stable of the Subscriber, living on the road from Pittsburgh to Ginger-Hill, near Mr. Woods' Meeting-House, St. Clair township, Allegheny county; the three first days of the second week, at Wingfield Mill on Chartiers creek; and the three last days of the same week, at Coulter's Mill, on Miller's run, in Fayette township, and so on alternately during the Season, which will end the first of July following, at the low rate of Four Dollars the Season, payable the first of October; Two Dollars the single leap, to be paid at the time the Mare is covered, and Eight Dollars for ensuring a Colt, to be paid when the Mare is known to be with foal, the owner parting with the Mare or removing her, forfeits the ensurance money; any person bringing two Mares, shall have a deduction of Fifty Cents on each: and any person bringing three Mares, shall have a deduction of One Dollar on each, provided nevertheless, that the said Mares belong to one person. Any person who brought Mare or Mares to the said Horse last season, (and did not prove with colt) shall have the opportunity this season of bringing the same number of Mares, and either a single leap gratis, or an abatement of One Dollar to each Mare, so missing by the Season.

Young North Star,

Is a beautiful dark bay, has a large star on his forehead, rising 5 years old, 17 hands high, and well calculated for either saddle or draft. His sire was Old North Star, imported from England, and stood in Pittsburgh when this colt was got; his dam was got by the imported Horse Messenger, and is an elegant Mare. Further recommendations are unnecessary, as his size, figure and movement will sufficiently recommend him to all competent judges.

HENRY HULS.

March 22, 1816.

Six Cents Reward.

RANAWAY on Sunday last, from the subscriber, an indented servant boy named JOHN CLEMENS, about 17 years of age, 5 6 or 7 inches high, ruddy complexion, and sandy hair—it is supposed he took a variety of cloathing with him. I will give the above reward to any person who will deliver him to me in Pittsburgh, but will pay no charges or expences whatever.

JAMES GIBSON.

Pittsburgh, March 26, 1816.

Washington O'Hara,

AN Apprentice to the Printing Business, absconded from my service on Sunday last, in company with John Clemens. He is about 17 years of age, 5 feet 4 or 5 inches high, a down look, which he does not belie by his actions, for he is really an evil disposed worthless fellow. I offer no reward for his apprehension, and intend this only as a caution to Printers not to employ him

HAS REMOVED HIS

Printing Office

To Liberty Street, nearly opposite Fifth Street, where he will execute orders with neatness and despatch.

☞ JOB Printing, of every description, done at the shortest notice.

Pittsburgh, March 27, 1815.

WANTED.

A SITUATION by a person who is well acquainted with book-keeping, both by single and double entry, and has a general knowledge of the mercantile business, from long experience in the cities.—Having a small family, a situation that would admit of his boarding at home, would be most agreeable. Application made at this office, will be immediately attended to.

Pittsburgh, March 23, 1816. 3tq

Greensburgh and Pittsburgh, turnpike road company.

PROPOSALS will be received by any of the managers, for making three miles of said road, from Wilkinsburgh, (M'Nairstown) eastward—and also for two miles from Black-lane, on R. M'Reans place, westward;—until the 8th day of April next, at which time the board will meet. Those that wish to contract, can view the premises, as the road has lately been staked out.

Proposals will also be received by the Westmoreland county managers, until the 15th day of April next, (when the said managers will meet at the house of William Hindman,) for erecting a bridge across Fullers' run, of an arch of 12 feet span—6 feet high to the spring of the arch—30 feet wide in the clear, with about 100 feet of wing-walls, as will be directed by said managers; the wing walls to be raised even with a 3 feet wall on the top of the bridge.

By order of the board,

WM. FRIEDT, Sec'ry.

Pittsburgh, March 23, 1816. tf

Doct. N. SMITH,

SURGEON DENTIST.

RESPECTFULLY gives notice to the ladies and gentlemen of Pittsburgh, and its vicinity, that it is his determination to remain in this place—and he will gratefully receive, and punctually attend to all commands in each branch of his profession. He likewise feels under the greatest obligations to the citizens of Pittsburgh, for the liberal patronage which he has already received.—He deems it superfluous, even to mention the utility of artificial teeth, as he has inserted a considerable number, since his residence in this place.—Those that entertain doubts respecting the operation, are solicited to witness specimens of his performance. He still continues to insert artificial teeth—to mend, clean and extract natural ones.—The teeth which he inserts, are warranted.—If more convenient, he will attend ladies and gentlemen at their respective places of abode.

☞ Applications to be made at Dr. Morrel Parker's druggist store, east side of Wood, between Diamond alley and Fifth-street.

Pittsburgh, March 23, 1816. eowtf

The Collector's Office

WILL be open at the house of Mrs. M'CULLOUGH, in Pittsburgh, from the second until the fifth of April, inclusive.

The duties on manufactures, having been abolished on the 22d day of Feb. last, it is hoped that they will be punctual in attending at the above time, that their accompts can be properly closed.

Retailers who have not obtained a Licence for the present year, will take notice, that unless they apply therefor, previous to the fifth of April, the penalties of the law will be enforced.

JAMES PATTERSON,

Pittsburgh, March 12, 1816.

Messrs. Bosler & Co.

Have just received from LEE'S PATENT and FAMILY MEDICINE STORE, New-York,

A FRESH SUPPLY OF THE FOLLOWING

GENUINE MEDICINES.

Dr HAMILTON'S
Grand Restorative.

Prepared (only) by H. LEE, No. 56, Maiden Lane, New-York.

The proprietor of HAMILTON'S RESTORATIVE DROPS confidently recommends it as an invaluable medicine, for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent Cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions
Lowness of Spirits	Indigestion
Loss of Appetite	Melancholy
Impurity of Blood	Gout in the stomach
Hysterical Affections	Pains in the Limbs
Inward Weaknesses	Relaxations, &c

This Medicine is perfectly different in its qualities and operation from those hot and irritating drugs so frequently proposed for similar purposes, which only recommend themselves by the dangerous rapidity of their effects—and which, acting as a temporary, but violent stimulus on the nervous system, infallibly produces greater evils than those which they are intended to remove.

The principal operation of this medicine is in the stomach, restoring the digestive power, and sending from that organ new health and vigor into every part of the system; it enriches and purifies the blood without stimulating, too violently, the nervous system; strengthens the secretory vessels and general habits, brings back the muscular fibres to their natural and healthy tone, and restores that nutrition which immoderate evacuations have destroyed, and whose loss had thrown the whole frame into languor and debility.

The restorative is absolutely above all commendation in removing those weaknesses and infirmities with which many females are afflicted, the consequences of difficult and painful labours, or of injudicious treatment therein.

In cases of extremity, where the long prevalence and obstinacy of disease have brought on a general impoverishment of the system, excessive debility of the whole frame, and a wasting of the flesh, which no nourishment or cordial could repair.

The Grand Restorative is prepared in Pills, as well as in fluid form, which assists considerably in producing a gradual and lasting effect

HAMILTON'S
Worm Destroying Lozenges.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions of foulness in the stomach and bowels.

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills,

Celebrated for the mildness of their operation, &c. for being the best known remedy for cleansing the stomach and bowels.

HAMILTON'S
ESSENCE & EXTRACT OF MUSTARD,

A safe and effectual remedy for Rheumatisms, Gout, Palsy, Sprains and Bruises, White Swellings, old Strains and Relaxations, Numbness and Weaknesses of the Neck, Pains of the Side, Headache, Swelled Faces, Frozen Limbs, and every similar complaint. It prevents Chilblains or Chopped Hands, and the ill effects of getting wet or damp in the feet.

THE GENUINE PERSIAN LOTION,

So celebrated among the fashionable thro'out Europe, in preventing and removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c

THE RESTORATIVE POWDER,
For the Teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which, suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

HAMILTON'S ELIXIR.

Celebrated for the cure of colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, and approaching consumptions, and a certain remedy for the whooping cough.

HAHN'S GENUINE EYE WATER.

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or accident.

TOOTH ACHE DROPS.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

ITCH CURED.
LEE'S OINTMENT FOR THE ITCH.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

LEE'S
INFALLIBLE
AGUE & FEVER DROPS.

For the cure of Agues, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers.

HAHN'S
True & Genuine German Corn Plaister.

NOTE. The above GENUINE MEDICINES are prepred (only) by H. LEE, (widow of Richard Lee, deceased) No. 56, Maiden Lane, N. York, and

SOLD, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL BY

BOSLER & CO.

Front Street, between Market and Wood Streets, Pittsburgh.

☞ Druggists and Country Storekeepers, will be treated with on liberal terms.

CURE FOR COUGHS, COLDS, &c.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A SOVEREIGN REMEDY for Colds, obstinate Coughs, Asthmas, Sore Throats, and approaching Consumptions, and most disorders of the breast and lungs.

A SINGLE TRIAL

Will prove, that it restores the determination of the fluid to the surface of the body, and brings on the common healthful perspiration; that it dislodges and evacuates the tough viscid phlegm or mucus, strengthens the weakened vessels of the lungs, sheathes the acrimonious humor which irritates them, and finally discharges it. Thus striking at the root of the disorder, the symptoms are of course effectually and permanently conquered; the reverse of common medicines, which weaken the constitution and give strength to the disorder, for the sake of moderating for the present some of its painful effects.

To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is so perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small, that no difficulty arises in taking it.

TO H. LEE.

Being desirous to make public, for the good of others, the excellent quality of HAMILTON'S ELIXIR, prepared by the late Mr. Lee, I have sent you the following account of the benefit I have received from it, which I hope will induce others to give it a trial. In consequence of a bruise on the breast received by a fall, my health grew bad, my breathing became very difficult, and frequently I have had to rise up in my bed, with all the horrors of immediate suffocation. Add to these a constant pain in my breast, and a cough, a great loss of strength and flesh, and you may perceive that my symptoms evidently indicated an approaching consumption. The advise of a most eminent physician was resorted to, and afterwards a second was called in, but without giving me any relief. Another physician who knew me and the circumstances of my case, advised me to give Hamilton's Elixir a trial, saying, he had used it in his practice, and always found it to do much good. A bottle was procured from Mr. Birch's, and I found relief before I had taken half of it. I continued to use it, and was soon strong enough to attend to business. On taking cold some of my former symptoms return, but are always removed by a dose or two of the Elixir.
